They're calculated with a $100 wager in mind, but don't worry, you don't have to ante up three figures to get in the game.

For example: -165 (a $165 bet would win you $100 in profit) +500 (a $100 bet would win you $500) and the more a bet will pay.

For example: You bet on the Golden State Warriors moneyline; if they win, you win! If they lose, well.

When a team "covers," it means they have beaten the point spread attached to the bet.

You can bet on those individually or you can parlay them together with a combined odds of +243*.

The reason the payout is bigger is because the chances of both of those bets winning is much smaller.

You can also parlay bets across sports (a Packers and NWSL's Portland Thorn) Tj T* B

Learn everything you need to know about point spread betting, one of the most popular betting formats out there for NFL, college football, and more.

Not all teams and competitions are evenly matched.

Bettors can identify the point spread favorites by the minus (-) in front of their handicap.

In the above Super Bowl example, you'll notice a -110 next to both spreads (assuming you're using American odds).

5, meaning the favorite needs to win by two or more runs.
